Member Benefits Guide

Our Members

Welcome

The Print & Visual Communications Association (PVCA) merged with The Real Media Collective (TRMC) in 2022 bringing together the two largest industry bodies for the sector. Bringing together a united industry approach with a strong vision to protect, promote and grow the industry sectors we represent.

PVCA carries a long and respected history of over 130 years representing the interests of the print industry across Australia. A recognised 'peak industry' body, PVCA is a registered organisation with direct signatory to the nine (9) Awards across our industry and membership. Offering an end-to-end industry association solution that is relevant in all that it undertakes. Whether advocating the relevance of the established media – print – that we all belong to, developing global partnerships and translating to regional requirements, awarding excellence, investing in products and arming our industry with sales tools, sustainability collateral, industrial relations representation and more.

The largest print industry body, committed to building a stronger united leadership to deliver the goals of our members. United we will lead strong advocacy, government advisory, skills and training programs, protection and promotion of our industry channels and more to ensure our member's businesses operate within a future-proofed strategy for success.

Print & Visual Communications Association

History

The Print and Visual Communication Association (PVCA) is the peak industry body for all businesses in the print, packaging, graphic design and media technology industry across Australia. We work to support and promote an evolving industry, and to help our members become more profitable and sustainable.

The key benefits we provide members are:

- Advocacy across federal and state governments, working to ensure the importance of the printing industries to the Australian economy is understood and policy supports productive industry,
- Industry-specific workplace relations advice and legal services from experts you know you can trust, including a sophisticated online resource centre,

- Networking and events across a range of topics and opportunities,
- Access to our industry-specific environmental certification programme, Sustainable Green Print, and
- Access to our better business buying partners, offering discounts and incentives for members across a range of services including superannuation and energy.

The PVCA is the registered organisation with the Registered Organisation Commission and Fair Work Commission.

Kellie Northwood

Chief Executive Officer

Our Chief Executive Officer is a well-respected industry leader having worked across the print media landscape for twenty (20) years. Kellie Northwood brings expertise in not only the industry stakeholders but also across her experience having held senior executive roles working within the industry she represents. A strong print background, proven track-record in government liaison and well-regarded application of relevancy to a modern and commercially focused industry association that has enjoyed year on year growth. Kellie is a strong visionary leader for a united industry Association today and well into the future.

Recognised for her mantra 'do what you say you will', Kellie is on record across the merger as committing to building a 'member's first' approach across the industry body, arguing 'we are only as strong as our members are, and ensuring the industry body is developing industry initiatives that strengthen our member's business is key'.

Industrial Relations, Government and Policy

Industrial and Workplace Relations

A strong offering to our membership is bespoke and comprehensive industrial relations and workplace health and safety advice for your business. A hybrid solution of an industry expert supported by readily accessible online tools and hotline support.

Charles Watson, GM – IR, Policy & Governance, is a true industry expert across the legislative requirements across our industry. Charles has over twenty (20) years' experience across law firms, industry bodies and across the nine (9) Awards our member sectors operate within, specifically for thirteen (13) years working with the Print Industries Association of Australia. Charles is a brains trust your business will be well protected within.

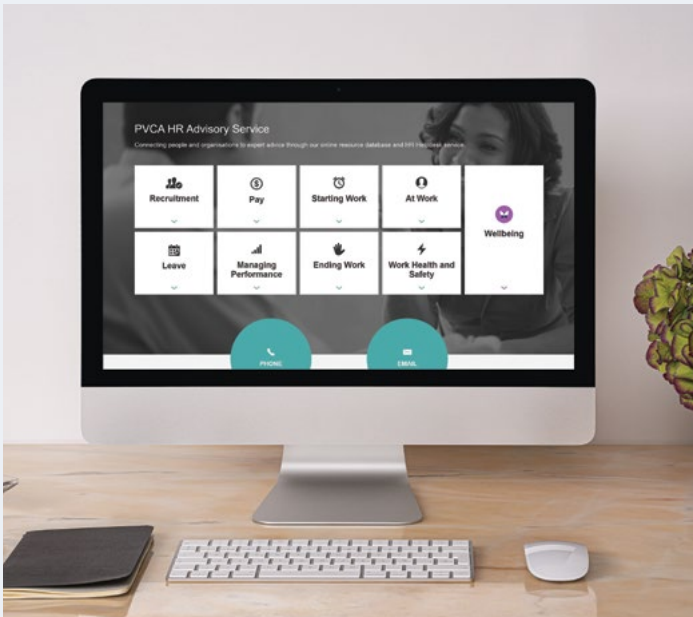

All supported by comprehensive guidelines and a template library developed specifically for our industry and your business to adapt your processes, supported by on-site assessments, reporting and more. How to guides also assist in navigating the ever-changing rules and regulations as we navigate a post pandemic era as well as Fact Sheets and Reference Guides to include in your employee communications. Nothing is overlooked in this complete offering for your business. Do not leave your business unprotected and include this offering in your membership today.

Government and Policy

Ensuring direct representation into government, federal, state and local, is critical to advocating the strengths of our industry as well as ensuring our industry is protected from any legislative change. Reforms are welcomed with advisory, as are input across skills, energy policies, carbon mapping, postal service regulatory compliance and more.

With over 200 pages of submissions into government throughout the past eighteen (18) months, development of 227 government policy and advisory notices for members and preparing a clear industry snapshot to communicate the industry size, contribution to the economy and business representation across the small business sector – a united representation offers members a stronger voice than ever before.

Recognised Registered Organisation

What Is It?

A 'registered organisation' is an association of employers (PVCA) or employees (AMWU) that has been formally registered by the Fair Work Commission under the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Act 2009.

The Registered Organisations Commission (ROC) is the independent regulator of registered organisations and oversees all that we do across our industry representation.

Following registration, an organisation is able to represent its members in the national workplace relations system. For example, it can represent its members before the Fair Work Commission and have influence across Award reviews and amendments.

The Benefit

With a legislative oversight across the Awards our industry operates under, we can recommend changes, have influence across how the Fair Work Commission reviews Minimum Wage Increases, applies rulings across industrial relations matters, influence National Skills List for Apprentice inclusion and influence any immediate temporary support, such as the implementation and re-implementation of Schedule X during the extended lockdowns experienced across NSW and VIC in 2021 or government enquiries into new legislation, such as Paid Carer's Leave, Domestic Violence Leave and more – our advocacy provides representation of your business as a collective industry. Representing the specific impacts to the print and related services industry sector is our role to ensure any legislative amendments do not have a negative impact on your business.

Distribution Standards Board

What Is It?

The Distribution Standards Board (DSB) is the self-regulatory body of Residential Letterbox and Door Drop Distribution industry across Australia and New Zealand.

The Benefit

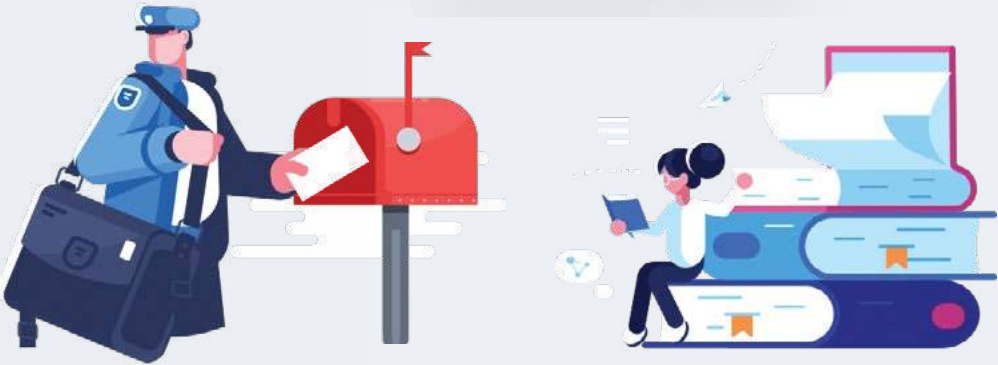

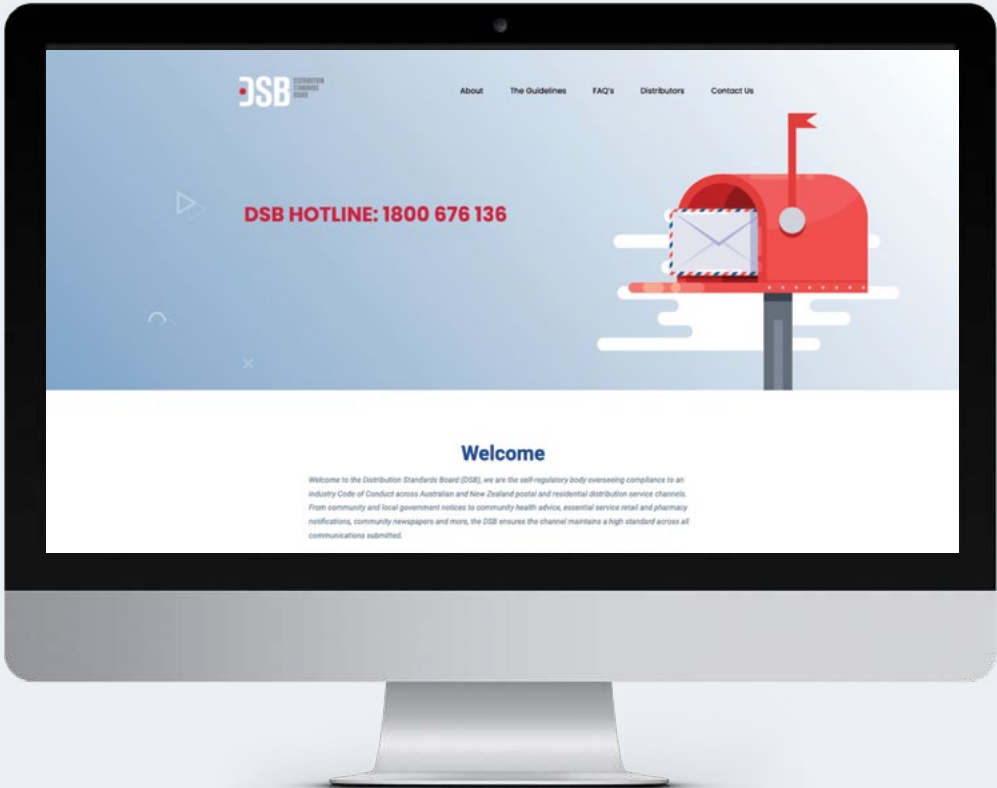

This Charter sets out the DSB's commitment to providing a high level of standards for all suppliers and recipients alike. The DSB is designed to ensure the industry meets agreed guidelines to ensure all unaddressed material being distributed is delivered to the highest standards.

The primary function of the Charter is to maintain agreed levels of privacy, litter control, cooperation with local authorities, protection of the integrity of the Letterbox channel and compliance with all social and environmental guidelines.

Signatories to the DSB are those that comply to the highest standards of Residential Letterbox Distribution across Australia and New Zealand.

Sustainable Green Print

What Is It?

Sustainable Green Print (SGP) is a nationally recognised environmental certification program designed specifically for print businesses. A level by level program that aligns with international standards.

The Benefit

Being certified differentiates you from your competitor, giving your business a verifiable green competitive edge. Being green saves you money and the SGP program assists your business to better manage waste, recycling, water consumption, energy and air emissions. The entire program can also assist in reducing insurance premiums by helping you to better manage the storage and handling of printing chemicals and incident response, among other things. A powerful industry initiative setting an environmental standard for all.

Two Sides

What Is It?

Two Sides, part of an international campaign across twelve countries, raises awareness of the environmental credentials of paper and print.

The Benefit

Nickable charts filled with local data to highlight the environmental credentials in a bite sized format, Myths and Facts booklets, that can be branded with your company logo for inclusion in tenders and client presentations, infographics and posters for your next sales event. The Two Sides campaign is recognised globally for alliances with the WWF, CEPI and Greenpeace and argues - in a world questioning single-use plastic and consumerist digital device consumption - the environmental strength of a renewable, recyclable and compostible resource – paper.

Love Paper – Consumer Education

What Is It?

Love Paper, is an industry campaign to promote the environmental, social and economic credentials of the paper, print, mail, packaging and distribution industries.

Paper is a renewable, highly recyclable and a reforestation positive product. Learning from paper increases children's comprehension and recall, addressed mail carries only 1.3% scam rate compared to 59.4% via digital channels, is socially inclusive in an ever-increasing digitally divided society, is preferred by consumers to 'switch off' and is one of the largest manufacturing employers in the country, employing 600,000 direct and indirect employees across Australia with multiple skilled levels in regional and metropolitan areas.

The Benefit

Communicating the social, environmental and economic benefits our industry has across Australia and New Zealand is key in supporting local manufacturing, local jobs and the environment.
